Volume 24, Issue 1

It is winter in Texas. You never know what to expect—9 degrees or 90. We were able to shoot on Saturday with moderate temps. However, we cancelled our Sunday & Monday shoots due to freezing winter weather & icy roads.

Saturday, we shot a winter-themed side match. Kansas City Sneed took 1st place and won an Oakwood Outlaws winter cap. Way to Go!! Congratulations to all of our shooters.

I hope everyone can make it out in February for our Derringer give-away shoot! Reference the enclosed flyer for details. I hear another fun side match is in the scheming phase. TX Alline is making complimentary homemade chicken noddle soup for our shooters! See you in February. BlueBonnet Belle

Howdy from Oakwood to all our pard! January is winter and the weather certainly proved that. Saturday was a bit chilly, but it warmed up to decent shooting weather by match time. The temps definitely gave folks a chance to wear their heavier cowboy duds. Unfortunately, we had to cancel Sunday's and Monday's matches as it was bitter cold and freezing rain. The good news was that the forecast made it clear early enough to get the word out and it was accurate, so we did not regret the decision the day of, Burrrrrrrrrrrrrr.

Saturday the scenarios had a winter theme to them and all the lines were from western movies. So, we had a bit of a trivia contest after the awards to see who could identify the movie, character and actor for the lines. We shot the Town Center again with the moving target which was a big hit again. We also had an option to reload some rounds in your rifle (on the clock) and shoot at a special target to eliminate a few misses for those who wanted to try and earn a clean match. A couple folks were able to take advantage of that.

Also, we shot a special winter side match and the winner, Kansas City Sneed, received an Oakwood Outlaws winter cap. We had four clean matches that day. Pinetar, a long time member who we had not seen in a while, joined us for the match and brought a new shooter to our sport. He used Big McClinton but is still deciding on his alias. Pinetar suggested McClintdoc. I thought it was pretty creative, his last name and profession with a play on McClintock. If that does not ring a bell, what kind of cowboy are you!????? "Somebody oughta belt you in the mouth. But I won't, I won't. The hell I won't." POW!

In February, Valentine's Day will play into the stories and lines. Burr Bunn created a new special target for the side match. The idea came from Justa Hand so you know it's "Different"! We may have a chance to eliminate a miss or two. Monday, Wild Bunch will be featured. Since we did not shoot it in January, we are adjusting the rotation. So, February will be Wild Bunch, March Teddy Roosevelt and April Doughboy and repeat.

February is our short month, short gun match. The Saturday match is going to involve a special shooting category and a gun give away! Every shooter receives one ticket, club members receive two additional tickets and shooters in the special derringer category receive an additional five tickets. Those tickets go in a drawing for a Bond Arms Cowboy Defender in .38 caliber. "The safe place is behind Mississippi when he shoots that thing."

So, for now, greetin's and salutations from the Oakwood Outlaws, until we meet again!
